Text: 1 Timothy 6:17-19 (p. 994)

God designed humans to desire, to pursue, that which brings the _____.

My problem, and the problem with so many of us as Jesus' followers, isn't that we want or desire too much, but that we are satisfied with _____.

Like everything the Father calls us to, generosity is actually a call to _____.

Generosity enables us to grab hold of _____.

- Generosity enables us to have a _____ for God.
(Acts 20:35; Mt. 6:24)

If we deal well with our hearts towards money and our propensity to love and trust it, then it no longer stands in the way of what? _____.

Before God blesses us with anything else, He gives us Himself because He is what we most need. He is the essence of all that is rich and _____. He is the essence of all that is truly life.

- Generosity enables us the _____ of seeing others know Christ.

Jesus tells us to use our _____ to help people know God's love for them in Jesus Christ. (Lk. 16:9)

And when we do that, guess who will welcome us into _____ just as we will welcome those who made it possible for us to know God.

- Generosity enables a _____. (Mal. 3:10)
- Generosity enables more financial resources to enjoy and do _____.

Though not anywhere close to being the greatest of blessings or riches, God does promise that as we give of our finances, there will be a _____ of financial blessing. (2 Cor. 9:6, 11)

We will see the Father trust us with more financial resources as we are _____ to Him with what we already have.

- Generosity enables great _____.

We can't take anything with us when we die. But we can sure _____. (Mt. 6:19-21)

Why would Jesus command generosity? Simple. He wants us _____. He wants us to have the life that is truly life, life that is abundant both now and forever.
