

Above the Noise

The Invitation

Text: Matthew 11:28-30 (p. 816)

_____ is a growing issue that economic prosperity and technological/scientific advancements are not solving.

The commands of Jesus aren't demands meant to show us our lack but promises meant to show us our _____ when we walk with Him.

The invitation of Jesus is to a life of _____.

We tend to rest from our work and activity; Jesus is inviting us to work and be active from a _____.

Rest is not a break but the _____ from which we live.

Adam and Eve were created not to work and then rest. The Father's _____ was to live out their mission from a place of rest.
(Gen. 1-3)

The day in a biblical worldview started with sleep. The day didn't end with rest but started, is _____, on rest. (Gen. 1:5)

Growing in salvation is connected to the idea of growing into _____ from a place of rest. (Heb. 4:9-11)

The Father longs for us to have not just moments of rest but a life that is _____ by rest. (Is. 30:15)

Rest is what we see in Jesus. When we read the four gospels, we very rarely (if ever) see Him _____ or _____.
(Mt. 8:23-27; 27:12-14)
