

God's Promises: Take Them to the Bank Remember Jesus Christ

Text: 2 Timothy 2:8-13 (p. 995)

In the midst of _____, it's easy to forget the faithfulness of God.

Fairness doesn't happen in this life; _____ happens in this life. (Jn. 16:33; Heb. 5:8; Jam. 1:2-4)

God is present with us and _____ in the midst of the struggles and difficulties even when they're not turning out the way we want when we want. (Rm. 8:28)

When God's not doing what I want Him to do when I want Him to do it, the temptation is to _____ Him at some level, to be _____ to Him at some level.

Remembering God's faithfulness in the past imparts _____ for now and the future.

To face the difficulties of now and the uncertainties of tomorrow with courage, we must regularly _____ God's faithfulness in the past. (Rev. 12:11)

Sometimes our next steps with Jesus – often those steps – stretch and _____ us.

The temptation is to forget, or at least _____, how we got where we are, and we try to face the days to come on our own.

And when we fall prey to _____, fear begins to replace courage, cowardice becomes our norm instead of valor.
